

I finally fixed the problem!!!

I use Yahoo mail , and all of a sudden I was unable to email statements, and invoices , also with attachments...I use QB-desk top pro 2020

1st... go to your email and go to the ACCOUNT SECURITY section

2nd...in yahoo go all the way to the bottom of page in ACCOUNT SECURITY... see manage app passwords

3rd ... you will need to type in Quick Books in the dropdown menu

4th.... click enter it will give you a 16 letter pass word... COPY IT

5th Now go back to your QB and pick a customer to send a statement to

6th....now when it asks for the password to your email... PUT THE 16 LETTER PASSWORD THAT YOU COPIED INTO THAT BOX... and woohoo you are back able to email from within QB statements and invoices .

Hope this makes your life easier, ..... P. Nicolay of California

Add two-step verification for extra security

Enable two-step verification to require a code (in addition to your password) any time a login attempt is made from a new device or browser. We'll send you a text or call you with a new code that needs to be entered at sign in. The phone number we contact you with may be different each time.

Sign in and go to your Account security page.

Beside "Two-step verification," click the Toggle button to turn it on .

Enter your mobile number.

Click Send SMS or Call me to get a verification code.

Enter the verification code, then click Verify.

If you access Yahoo Mail in third-party apps, click Create app passwords or click Skip for now.

Want to turn it off? Just access your security page again and change the toggle to the off position .
